Premier Tells Chamber That Nation Must be Calm in Present Strength.

Germany's Stand on Silesia Pleases London; Answer Satisfactory.

Premier replied:

"France did not have to use force: France signified its will to Germany and was obeyed.

"MY SUCCESSOR."

"But if the chamber is dissatisfied with the government for obtaining the results desired by the mere expression of its will and wishes to take other measures and follow the policy of occupation, then it may say so in its vote, and my successor will find everything ready for him on the Rhine.

"I have taken my responsibilities." he concluded. "This chamber must now take, if not satisfied with my policy, the other route, which has been shown to it by the interpellators, and the deputies may give them their support as far as I am concerned. I proclaim the honor of this policy and shall continue it as long as you give me your confidence."

Chicago Federal Building two years ago, in which four persons lost their lives and more than a score were injured, has been cleared up. He gave no details except that Samuel Gibson, I.W.W. leader and organizer of local No. 402 of the engineers' union, is under investigation.

Premier Briand, questioned by a group of Deputies before the meeting, said there was no reason for the occupation of the Ruhr region because the aspect of the Silesian question had been changed, and if question had been changed, and it the Ruhr were occupied without the support of the Allies, it would be equivalent to abandonment of the Treaty of Versailles. WANTS MORAL AID. The motive behind the bembing was sabetage, the Chief said. Gibson is a leader in I.W.W. circles. He was arrested shortly after the postoffice catastrophe, but was released for lack of evidence.

Gibson was grilled for several hours by Chief Fitzmorris, who would not divulge the results of his questioning. He seemed pleased as policemen removed the prisoner to the detective bureau.

"It would be unwise to reveal our evidence on Gibson," he said. "Suf-

WANTS MORAL AID.

Premier Briand went into the same subject later in his statement to the Chamber on the government's foreign policy and with regard to the London agreement for non-occupation of the Ruhr Valley. He laid emphasis on the point that the main object he had been pursuing was to retain the support of public opinion, as well as the moral support of the governments of America and Great Britain.

"In the world as it is constituted today," M. Briand said, "no country can exist in isolation. I do not want France to be in the same position as in 1870. If coercive measures must be adopted, it must be in agreement with our allies."

postoffice agents here are working on the theory that Lawrence B Buckbee, 22 years old, arrested here by the police last night, is responsible for recent postoffice robberies in Los Angeles and San Joaquin counties. When arrested Buckbee had $3 worth of stamps in his possession and the officers found more than $100 worth of $5, 10 and 20-cent stamps hidden in his room. Buckbee said he found the stamps in the freight yards at Stockton, but later said he bought them from two strangers.

the natives by their courtesy. Then guards brought up Karl Heinen, a broad, big-shouldered typical Prussian sergeant.

The British witnesses gazed with open mouth at the seven judges, robed in maroon velvet, wearing cornered hats such as one sees in old paintings. Only 500 Germans could enter because of the smallness of the chamber and the unprecedented gathering of correspondants.

Sir Ernest Pollack, the British Attorney-General, led the accusing delegation.

In the courtroom the impression prevailed that whatever the evidence the accused are certain to get the maximum penalty so that the world's conscience might be satisfied. As the cross-examination began, however, it became evident that only a sergeant was accused the trial would tend to give the former Kaiser's Prussian military system still another knockout.

SENATE COMMITTEE

DECIDE TO REOPEN SENATOR'S CASE DESPITE COURT DECISION.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Nothwithstanding the Supreme Court decision freeing Senator Newberry of Mishigan the Senate Privileges and Elections Committee decided today investigate the charges that he won his Senate seat by extravagant and unlawful expenditure of money.

The Supreme Court set saide the conviction of Newberry on the ground that the section of the law regulating Senatorial primaries was unconstitutional. The investigation new to be made will cover the expenditures made in Senator Newberry's behalf stitutional. The investigation new to be made will cover the expenditures made in Senator Newberry's behalf in the election campaign.

Alfred Lucking, attorney for Henry Ford, told the committee that he would be able to prove that two or three times $178,800 was spent in Mr. Newberry's behalf. It had previously been charged that Newberry's expenditures were $176,000. Lucking declared that evidence would also be supplied to show that practically all the money came from the Newberry state.

Senator Townsend of Michigan urged the committee to drop the case. He declared that Senator Newberry was the victim of persistent persecution. When the investigation was completed he predicted there would be no proof of wyongdoing on Newberry's part.

Senator Townsend asserted that Ford's demand for a Senatorial investigation was merely a scheme to get Senator Newberry on the stand and erose-examine and humiliate him.

A special subcommittee was ap-

A special subcommittee was appointed to conduct the inquiry. It will consist of Senator Spencer of Missouri, chairman; Senator Watson of Indiana, Senator Edge of New Jersey, Senator Pomerene of Ohio, and Senator Wolcott of Delaware. The subcommittee will hold its first meeting Friday to organize the plan of procedure for the investigation.

"You are even bigger than I thought," continued Mr. Daugherty while the fighter settled back a little more at ease now that the introduction was over with.

"Yes," was Dempsey's reply, "I guess we look small when we are perched up there in the ring."

"Did you do any road work this morning, Jack?" queried the Attorney-General and when the champion toold him that he had covered at least seven miles, Mr. Daugherty smiled and said: "Well, you look good Jack, and if at any time you un short of sparring partners, I want powneys' response as he thought of some of the recent desertions in the camp.

SACRAMENTO, May 24.—Followers of the "sport of kings" will this year, at the California State Fair to be held September 3 to 11, train their field glasses on many new horses, handled by men who made the game famous in bygone days.

This is the advance information of Lonie Tryon, one of the best known turfmen on the Pacific Coast, who stopped off here en route to the meet in Reno, Nev.

Among the old horsemen who will be at the fair grounds this year are "Pop" Durfee, the veteran owner and driver and Lon Daniels. tween Great Britain and America will be continued at Turnberry next week, when a strong group of American and Canadian women will play the British women stalwarts for the British championship. The defense has strong players in Cecil Leitch, Joyce Wethered and Molly Griffiths. Perhaps the strongest of the challengers is Alexa Stirling, who already has achieved things here. The draw is unfortunate for the visitors, and necessarily will cause the early elimination of some Americans.

Defeat Guilford and Ouimet in Very Tight Matches at Hoylake; Paul Hunter Still O. K.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HOTLAKE, May 24. — Hoylake was a Waterloo for the Americans today. It saw the disposal of three of the big guns including "Siege Gun" Guilford, who went down before the heavier armament of the British champion, Cyril Tolley. This was by no means the greatest misfortune for the challengers, for Francis Ouimet and Chick Evans afterwards were beaten. Even this was not all, for Robby Jones showed he is a streaky player—and British stock now is higher than it has been since the Americans landed.

Santa Paula's speedy set of base-aliers spoiled Alhambra High's ballers spoiled Alhambra High's hopes for the Southern California title yesterday afternoon by defeating them in the semi-finals, 2 to 1, at Alhambra. The game was tight baseball, neither team having the game cinched until the ninth inning, when Churchill, second-sacker for the Santa Paula nine, speared a two-base hit out of the atmosphere by a spectacular one-handed catch, and ended the argument. Alhambra had a man on second at the time.

This game narrows down the list of contenders for the Southern California championship to three teams—Lincoln High, Santa Paula and San Diego. Lincoln and Santa Paula will tangle next week, and the victor will play San Diego for the title. The score:

FAMOUS FEUDIST IS HELD.

WILLIAMSON (W. Va.) May 24. "Sid" Hatfield of Matewan, reputed champion two-gun bad man of Mingo county, came to town today. The Sheriff had sent a deputy or two to bring him on a warrant charging him with an assault with a rifle on P. J. Smith, superintendent of the Stone Mountain mine, but Hatfield took the train alone.

AIMS TO GO ALONE.

AIMS TO GO ALONE:

The town sagged back into dullness. At the Sheriff's office, Hatfield exposed his gold bridgework in a smile and remarked: "When I aim to go anywhere I aim to go alone. They've got in the habit of blaming me for everything that happens at Matewan."

Hatfield, who is accounted the most dangerous man in the mountains, is a queer mixture. He is as strong against liquor as is Bryan, and as for gambling, only last week he chased a Kentucky native out of Matewan in a rage for auggesting that he be permitted to open a poker game. But gun shooting is something different. For months residents of these parts have been giving Matewan a wide berth and one finds automobiles in this town stick.

Inside the city units, unless it is something urgent.

This morning the mine plant of the Lynn Coal and Coke Company just above Matewan was burned. This mine was abandoned after the strike was called. The operators say that last winter, strikers were allowed to take up quarters in company houses at Lynn on agreement they would vacate May I. When moving day arrived some refused and evictions followed. Mine owners attribute the fire to strikers and term it another instance of sabsiage.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—An inquiry by Congress into the situation in the Tug River district along the West Virginia-Kentucky border appeared probable tonight upon the introduction by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, of a resolution directing the Senate Education and Labor Committee, which will meet Thursday, to act on the proposal.

The United Mine Workers urged the inquiry to prevent a recurrence of the warfare of ten days ago. Mine operators from the disturbed region several days ago asked Senator Sutherland to bring about a Congressional investigation. The third party affected by continued violence—the property owners of the district—Senator Johnson said in presenting his resolution, favored an inquiry.

sentative Burton declared today in the House.

The problem, he said, should be approached promptly and without partisanship.

A merchant fleet cannot be maintained efficiently as long as exports greatly exceed imports, he asserted.

"If our merchant fleet is to be built up," he said, "it will be necessary either to impose discriminatory duties or to grant subsidies to shipping interests."

Mr. Burton added, however, that he was not sure levying duties would solve the problem, for auch action might involve the United States in an embarrassing situation with other countries.

The La Follette Seamen's Act was not so had as some claim, he said, but it had had the effect of increasing the cost of operating American ships and of destreying the morale

DUNCAN (Ariz.) May 24.—Little nore than enough water for stock remains in the Gila River and very little is available for irrigation. Many farmers have turned cattle in on their grain, feeling that it cannot be brought to maturity.

Not for many years has the Gilabeen as dry as this season, seriously affecting the farmers in the more populous lower valley, around Safford. There is hope that water storage may be provided on the Upper Gila or on the San Francisco, where comparatively inexpensive where comparatively inexpensive dams would serve to impound enough of the floods to assure irrigation along the lower stream, inclusive of the Florence section.

Cattlemen are complaining over high religious without arrivant high railroad rates, which serious-ly handicap efforts to save the range stock. Cottonseed meal has been fed to an extent, but hardly pays in the face of a charge of $540 a carload from Phoenix, where the cost is only $15 a ton.

GROCERS SIGN PLEDGE.

[EXCLUSUS DISPATCE.]

PHOENIX, May 24.—Most of the retail grocers of Phoenix, Tempe, Mena and Glendale have signed piedges to handle only Sali River Valley dairy products. Heretofore heavy imports have been known of butter and cheese from California and Colorado. An effort is being made toward revival of the dairy industry of the valley, which was badly hurt by the rush to cotton. The valley creameries have lost much business by the partial closing of the large copper camps, to which went daily shipments of milk and ice cream, as well as butter, cheese and evaporated milk. Only one of the valley's three evaporating plants now is operating. The Phoenix Evening News appears to have met with financial trouble, as a mechanic's lien upon its equipment has been filed by employees, in the sum of $642. The last issue was on May 5. Editor Craip Pottinger for some time has been in North Arizona, selling stock in the paper, which he promises will be issued as a semiweekly till October, when it will return to dally publication.

The News was started especially to fight the Gazette, an evening daily that does not cater to the progressive or radical elements of the Democratic party. Many subscriptions were made to the stock of the new paper and it, is understood that $1000 came from a local attorney only a few days before suspension.

swer a charge of having killed her fourth husband. Edward Meyer.
Ormsby said Mrs. Southard expressed willingness to return to the mainland and face trial.
Late today Mr. and Mrs. Ormsby called on Gov. J. C. McCarthy with an extradition request from Idaho authorities, but the Governor was absent. Acting Atty.-Gen. Joseph Lightfoot told the Ormsbys that a legal mistake had been made in the extradition request because it was addressed to "proper authorities of Hawaiian Islands," instead of "tertiory of Hawaii." Mr. Lightfoot declared the error might prove troublesome should Mrs. Southard decide to fight return to Idaho.

CURRENT : CAPITAL : EVENTS. WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF.

CEXCLUSIVE DISPATCE 1

WASHINGTON, May 24. - Samuel Gompers served notice of Senate Pinance Committee that imposition of a sales tax would be followed by indignation meetings throughout the country. Regaining their grip on the Senate today, the regulars, aided by Democrats who deserted from the insurgent forces, succeeded by a vote of 45 to 23 in forcing the adoption of the Naval Affairs Committee's amendment providing for an enlisted strength of 120, 000 men for the Navy.

Notwithstanding the Supreme Court decision in favor of Sen-ator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan, the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections decided today to reopen the case.

Charles A. Braus, brother of Grover C. Bergdoll, denied before the House investigating committee today that he ever furnished a dollar to aid the draft slacker to escape. The Senate Committee on Banking and Currency approved the Curtis bill providing for a revolving fund of $50,000,000 of

SALT LAKE CUT-OFF.

Later, when the Southern Pricific wanted to get across the Salt Jake. Hood decided the cut-off could be built at a practicable cost, despite other views held by other engineers. He decided to cover eleven rulles of the lake with a trestle and /rear a solid ridge of earth across the rest of it. Despite the soft and treacherous bottom, the project was completed in little more than a sear. An average of 1,140 feet of road bed was completed sach day.

The crossing of the Siskiyous was another problem solved by Hood. His "S" line crosses the Sacramento River eighteen times and passes through sixteen tunnels, one 2000 feet long. The construction of the line between San Diego and Arisiona involved cutting through Car-

DISIAKES OFFICE WORK.

Almost every one of the 11.000 miles of the Southern Pacific system was covered by Hood on foot before the rails were laid. All his work was done in the open. Now, with no more lakes to bridge and no more mountains to tunnel. Hood decided to leave his office past, with its "unit cost" discussions and the line, and, at ithe age of 75, to open his own office. He is not retiring because of his age or of failing health, for he is as active and vigorous as a man much younger.

Back in the pioneer days of 1887. Hood joined the Central Pacific, after having been mustered out of the United States Supreme Court in the case of the Economy Light and Power Company va the United States, a mandate covering the Link and power Company va the United States, a mandate covering the Last seventies built the Tenachen loop and sent the read to Los Angeles. To "make distance" for a gradual slope, Hood twisted his line in a down-slanting, loop completely around one of the peaks, completing the circles of seventents of a mile when the track crossed its starting point in a funnel seventy-seven feet below the upper level.

BANKERS CONVENTION.

The first session of the California Bankers' Association, devoted to the trust sections, will be held this afternoon at Coronado Béach. Every Los Angeles bank is sending representative delegations and the attendance is likely to break previous records. Many visiting financiers from other parts of the State were here yesterday on their way to the southern meeting place. The convention will continue through Saturday with sessions morning and afternoon, and the evenings devoted to social functions.

Phoenix (Ariz.) advices say that George D. Christy, trustee, has won his suit for the foreclosure of a sec-ond mortgage for $170,000 against Mercer D. Wilson, Jordan, Grace & Phelpa, the Arizona Cotton Com-

No Limit to Dividends

The Directors of the Huntington Midway Orude Oil Company have gone on record as sying that they are not going to limit themeves to any stipulated amount that they can may to stockholders in dividends. In other words, they say that they will pay all the oil money in the form of dividends to stockhold-go after the actual operating expenses have taken out. This may amount to 75 per ent or 80 per cent of the gross returns.

POWER COMPANY EARNINGS.

The Harris Trust and Savings Bank has recently compiled figures on the earnings of companies engaged in the electric light and power business alone, or in conjunction with a gas or traction business, which report regularly to the bank.

The figures are for the seven years from 1914 to 1920, including the war period. During 1918, 1919 and 1920, the most unfavorable period, net earnings averaged over two and one-half times the annual interest charges on the bonds handled by the bank, or those of equal or prior lien. For 1920 net carnings averaged over two and one-half times the annual interest charges on the bonds handled by the bank, or those of equal or prior lien. For 1920 net carnings averaged over two and one-half times the annual interest charges on the bonds handled by the bank, or those of equal or prior lien. For 1920 net carnings averaged over 2.61 times these bond interest charges.

This record indicates the stability of well-managed electric light and power properties under adverse as well as favorable conditions.

To Take Care of Oversubscriptions-

A S announced, we closed our subscription books immediately the auditors' a ures showed we were oversubscribed, agreeing to fill all orders accepted

The oversubscription ran into a rather big figure — more stock than we had thority to sell. We put the case before the Commissioner of Corporations and plied for a permit to fill accepted orders.

The suggestion was made that instead of leaving this extra money idle in treasury, we sell a little more stock at the same rate and put it into FURTH DEVELOPMENT for the benefit of ALL our stockholders. It means that a could go ahead with Well No. 5 without waiting for No. 1, 2, 3 or 4 to come in It is the best possible thing that could have happened for our shareholders, to we take this opportunity of congratulating them.

In a company formed for the purpose of producing oil, the prime factor of consideration is PROPERTIES.

We have large and extremely valuable holdings in three of the most prominent fields in America. In the Lost Hills field we have 160 acres adjacent to the property of General Petroleum. Economy of development in connection with quantity production make this district one of the best from a standpoint of actual net earnings that has ever been developed in California. Statistics recently published by the State Oil and Gas Supervisor show that developed property in this field produced to Dec. 31, 1920, 28,000 barrels of oil to the acre. In the far-famed South Mountain field we have 160 acres only 1900 feet from Palestine Budget.

EL CENTRO, May 24.—Semi-military type of self-government will be maintained at the T.M.C.A. summer camp for Imperial Valley boys in the Laguna Mountains this year. When the camp is opened June 7 for two weeks' outing, it is expected every available accommodation will be reserved, so great is the interest manifested.

The opening day will be devoted to an election of officials from among an announcement from that organization.

It is expected that one of the main issues at this meeting will be whether the majority faction of the hotory, a mayor, city clerk, chief of police and other officers being necessary under the camp program. A regular daily schedule of physical training, work and play, similar to that used in military campa, will be maintained throughout the stay in the mountains.

AREY 85% Magnesia Pipe and Boiler coverings are the last word in effective boiler and steampipe insulation for coal saving.

No other pipe covering contains so many myriads of little dead air cells. Each minute cell acts like the hollow walls of a vacuum bottle in checking the flow of heat.

Being all mineral and non-burning, Carey 85% Magnesia covering can be used on high pressure steam lines. After 20 years of service on hot surfaces that would burn up organic substances such as hair and wool, Carey 85% Magnesia shows no deterioration. You can stop 87% of the heat lost through un-covered pipes, you can save one-fourth of your coal with 85% Magnesia.

Every modern locomotive has it, every U. S. Battle-ship uses it. It is saving coal for building owners and manufacturers in every part of the country. It will for you.

FATAL ROW TOLD BY MRS. GIROUX

Shooting of Stepson Related in Suit for Million.

Woman Depicts Ordeal Passed Through in Cabin.

Letter Bearing on Case Allowed in Evidence.

The terrible ordeal through which she passed in the kitchen of the cabin at Marietta, Nev., the scene of the slaying of George Gircux, on June 26, 1920, was described by his stepmother, Mrs. Phoebe Giroux, before a jury in Phoebe Giroux, before a jury in Judge Monroe's court yesterday, at the trial of Mrs. Solo Giroux's $1,000,000 damage suit for the death of her husband.

"I was crazed with fear," she testified, for George held an automatic revolver pressed to her breast and followed her around the kitchen.

and followed her around the kitchen.

"When he drove up in an automobile," she said, "I told him he was not wanted. The screen door was locked, but he opened it and came in. He took a revolver out of his pocket. He followed me with the revolver. He teld Virginia and her husband, J. H. Saucer, to come in. He pressed the revolver against my breast and said, 'I will kill you.' Virginia told him not to shoot.

"He followed me step by step with the gun. Jack Saucer had his hand on his hip. I tried to talk as coolly as I could. I was scared to death. I was trying to cook lunch. George told me: 'You will never do that.' He took a letter out of his pocket and showed it to me. He said: 'Here's a letter returned to me by my father. He never opened it."

LETTER ALLOWED.

This letter, which, the defense asserts, shows that George Gireux went to the cabin to see his father to ask him to restore the geod name of his mother, was allowed in evidence by agreement of Attorners Scott and Ritters and Earl Newmire. Attorney Scott objected to the letter on Monday and the court sustained him, holding that George Giroux was not justified in going te the cabin with a gun.

"George told me I was to blame because his father had sent the letter back to him. He said he could not stand it any longer." said Mrs. Giroux. "Mr. Saucer went out. I was scared stiff. George tried to light a cigarette by pushing paper in the stove, after scattering my pans. He even dipped the eigarette in hot grease he spilled on the floor. He was wild. He walked around the table. My husband tried to open the screen door. George pointed his gun at him and said: I will kill you.

"My husband asked: What is the matter?" We were then in the front room. George told us to sit down. Joseph, my son, at first refused to sit down. Finally we all sat down. My husband and I sat on the bed. Jack Saucer stood by the table, his hand on his hip. George kept his gun in his hand, but once he put it in his lap. My husband said: "What's all this?" He then asked if he could go cut and talk with Virginia. Finally they came back."

TELLS OF TRAGEDY.

It was almost immediately that the tragedy occurred.

"George showed his father a letter. He said: 'You will die' and pointed his gun at his father. I stood by the table. There were two guns under newspapers. Jack told me to keep away from the table. I stepped back. My husband got up. George got up. My husband went near the table. Jack was watching at the door, but tried to get to the newspapers.

"My husband reached under them and got a gun. Jack grasped him by the wrist. The gun went off. The first bullet went through the partition. The second shot was fired as my husband turned around. It struck George in the head."

Both Mr. Saucer and his wife admitted that they had not told all the truth at the Coroner's inquest at which the elder Giroux was exonerated. They said they testified as they did to protect Mrs. Saucer's father. The trial will be resumed today. TELLS OF TRAGEDY.

The Rightness of Price

Robinson's has just completed a special purchase of White Flannel Trouser. They are to be priced at $11.75, a figure far below the customary level. Nor are they "customary" Trousers. It is the quality of the pure-wool flannel, its firmness and good weight, that make the Trousers out of the ordinary. Details of workmanship—the finish at the corners of the pockets—the stitching and other ear-marks of good tailoring—they are out of the ordinary, too.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

A South Dakota farmer wrote to the JVA A South Dakota farmer wrote to the judge who married him ten years ago that he was tired of his wife and would the judge send him a divorce by return mail? He has the idea. The man who presides at a wedding should be held responsible for mistakes and should have authority to issue a divorce when it turns out badly. Then a couple who had a church wedding could have a church divorce with the creating the county of th Then a couple who had a church wedding could have a church divorce with the organist playing Mendelssohn backward. The way it is now too many people can perform marriage ceremonies and too few sign divorce decrees. If all those who performed the ceremonies could also issue divorces it would make for efficiency and economy.

N CASE OF SICKNESS. The head of the Anti-Saloon League says we are becoming a nation of invalids. He speaks with sarcasm and bases his utterances upon the circumstance that America now uses 35,000,000 gallons of whisky a year for medical purposes, as against 10,-000,000 gallons in the day of the open sajoen. This is not a good argument for pro-hibition, but Mr. Wheeler overlooks the fact that in the days of the open saloon the "invalid" went right into the joint and bought his boose without bothering with a physician's prescription. The same man now has to cultivate his bronchitts or stom-achache in order to induce the doctor to prescribe that which he found so resulty before. We have no more invalids than be-fore, but possibly they are becoming con-

OHNBONIAN LOGIC. J Senator Johnson seems to be crowding the season in his political garden. He has en an open letter to an associate in co announcing his candidacy r re-election next year. The reason given a choice specimen of Johnsonian logic:

Curious, isn't it, that one so enamored of California life as that should have resigned the Gayernorship of the State to take up his residence in Maryland and spend ten on? The Senate is in session, on the average, ten months out of every twelve. None but a Johnsonian disciple can understand why one so profuse in his declaration that "I could not live happily in any other place" than in California should spend all those months on the banks of the Potomac while his native Sacramento is calling him.

Just now the California Senator is living in Maryland, holding title to a Senate seat in Washington and practicing law in New York; and all because "one who has lived nia as long as I have could not live happily in any other place."

ics, politics, what a brood of soph ists has been hatched under thy wings!

KIRTED GAMESTERS.

Again the press is carrying scandalou tales of the way wild women are losing their alimony at the bridge table. It would that New York is one vast gaming . The women are more ventures ing luck and chance than are the men, 'tis said. It appears to be possible for a perfect lady to spend an afternoon shufing the bones where a man would be gar mered by the impulsive police. In the smart set home is not home unless it has lette wheel as well as its private brewing outfit. All through the East the ery is that women of the smart set are playing every known game and eagerly an who can invent a new pastime hich will permit the exercise of the gam-ting spirit is sure of receiving three hearty wn pet cubes for African golf. The womhave their own brokers to handle racing agers and there are miniature Monte Car where none but skirts may have regu ion. Even the missionary tea wind up with a little crap game and society matron is known to have lost more than $80,000 during the bridge season. She was easy money for a number of adventurers who almost had her syndied. A casual glance at what is usually stigmatised as "the smart set" in any large community would indicate that there is more gambling, drinking and smoking among women than were ever before known in this country. But fortunately there is not enough of it to spoil the crop.

THE STILLMAN OBJECT LESSON. Washing the soiled family linen in public has precious little to recommend it, as James A. Stillman has learned to his cost. Signs are not wanting that he deeply regrets that he ever embarked upon such a legal revelation of domestic smut.

The Stillman case has provided nothing but social stench, nothing but outrageous exposure, nothing but the defilement of a might-have-been proud name, nothing but the taint of vile scandal for him and his. And it could not have required any unusual intelligence to have foreseen the inevitable results of such a move as he made. It doesn't matter what the facts in the case were, it does not matter how honestly he believed the charges he brought against his wife and the mother of his children for the purposes of divorce, since it is obvious he must have been fully aware of what the counter-charges would be and to what an abominable end the whole proceedings must inevitably lead.

And an abominable end it is indeed. The air is heavy with the stench of charges and nter-charges, which, if the public can believe them, bespeak a rottenness unthink-able and intolerable in certain circles of wealthy society.

We have had many examples of this disregard for common decency, the reckless desire to proclaim family vices and shames to the world for the sake of a temporary triumph, a petty, loathsome triumph that degrades both accuser and accused. But it has remained for James A. Stillman, pres-ident of one of the greatest banks in New York City, a man presumably of capacity and intelligence, to wantonly sacrifice name and intelligence, to wantonly sacrifice name and place and deliberately provide the most nauseating expose of social depravity for public diagust. It is almost incredible that any man of brains and position could ever embark upon so obvious a defiance of decency; it is difficult to appreciate any conditions that could have urged him to so inevitable a denouement. How could he have ever supposed that any woman in the position to which he himself had raised his wife, the mother of his children, would not wife, the mother of his children, would not fight back with every weapon in her power to at least retrieve any small measure of extenuating reprieve that his own conduct

His probable withdrawal from the case now, his very obvious anxiety to close it before further exposes mature, is evidence enough that he appreciates the impossible foolhardiness of his case, the poisonous boomerang, which he hurled so recklessly, returning to his own social shame. James A. Stillman has not only held his own fam-ily up to scorn and contumely, but he has injured his whole class, both socially and commercially—everyone who has ever associated with him suffering from the taint.

And supposing that he had proved his charges, won his case, snatched his dubious triumph, without his wife's lawyers being able to ferret out scandalous incidents in his own life and to retaliate with more mud-throwing? What then? He would still have known wherein he himself had failed as husband and father; he would still have held his family up to public scorn, still have degraded his wife and children before the world. In how could it have served him other than in the saving of a few thousand dollars? Even had his own life been one of righteous rectitude, where could be the satisfaction in dragging his family scandals into the limelight and victimizing his own innocent children? Even then he should have shuddered to make those who bear his name wretched; even then he should have buried the tragedy in his own soul and

But, under the circumstances, with those counter-charges so notorious, with so much to conceal, so much to evade and deny, there could be no possible excuse for instituting the nasty proceedings. If he believed his charges against his wife, what can be said of one who would shriek them from the housetops, make him and his objects of contumely, for the sake of a cheap revenge, a mean triumph? Better that he have spent all his fortune burying the dread secret, protecting his good name, shielding his children and hushing the cruel scandals

And the result of James Stillman's mis guided suit? Just exactly what he might so well have anticipated. All the bitter ness, all the scandal, all the murky tragedy -for what? At present showing, retreat, withdrawal, compromise. But whether he nises, whether he wins or whether he loses this precious case, no one has gained anything but ignominy, sensational notoriety, tears and shame. One side or the other may have salvaged a few thou sands of dollars—bought with pitiful degra-dation, public disgrace. Was it worth it?

EAGUE GRAPPLES PROBLEMS. Despite Ambassador Harvey's assertion to the contrary, it is the ballet of hundrads usands of Americans that in due time the United States will become a partner in the League of Nations. The second session of the Assembly is to be held in Septembe and it would give the world, and particular ly Europe, an electric thrill were this coun try able to formally join at that time. Per haps that is expecting a little too much.

Many subjects of great importance are to come before the League at the ensuing meeting. Election of judges for the Permanent Court of International Justice is one of the matters that appears on the provisional program as received in this coun try from Senhor Gastac da Cunha, president of the Council. Surely America will wish to take part in an event of such world-wide import. Then, again, there is Bolivia's request to submit the long-existing Tacna-Arica dispute to the League. Until that matter is disposed of there is a powder mine in South America ready to explode at any time. The problem is one that affects this continent, and the counsel of Americans would be vastly appreciated by the members of the League of Nations. Chile is inclined to keep the fires of trouble burning and would bar the matter from the Assembly. Bolivia, on the other hand, is anxious to have the affair peacefully disposed of by the board of nations. The United States ought to have a say on the

MORE JAPANESE PROMISES.

Tokio cables carry the "unofficial" announcement that the Japanese government is preparing to evacuate Shantung and the territory now occupied by the Japanese in Eastern Siberia. It is also asserted, still mofficially, that Japan is preparing to accede to the demands of our government in relation to the island of Yap. Such a conciliatory attitude on the part of the government of Japan contrasts strikingly with the eager haste that is being made to carry through the Japanese supernavy program; and it is well to keep in mind that it is by acts rather than by professions that both nations and individuals should be judged. Colored gentlemen have been known to take up their abode in the international wood Japanese diplomacy is always concilia tory in tone. Before a Japanese representative is accredited to a foreign capital he is put through a special course of instruction to teach him how to smile, and it is his duty, under any and all circumstances, to keep smiling. A Japanese headsman apolo-gizes profusely to the victim before he swings his two-handed sword. When a er of the governing class commits what is considered to be a capital offense express their deep regret that the government will be compelled to take cognizance of his act and insinuate that he would confer an inestimable favor upon the country if he would consent to commit hara-kiri. If he accedes to this request the government rewards him by adopting resolutions deploring his untimely demise.

Japan, it should be remembered, made the most profuse apologies to the Chinese government when it occupied Shantung The Germans were in possession and they were a rude people. They would prove hard masters; the lot of the native Chinese under German dominion would be unsup-portable. Japan understood Chinese manners and ideals; by reason of the wider ex-perience of the Japanese government in affairs of state it would be able to give to the province of Shantung a much better administration than if the Chinese were to attempt it themselves. It was even asserted that all dominion over foreign people was repugnant to the Japanese; but the occupation of the Shantung province was a duty that the Emperor could not with honor

On the day before the Japanese fleet swooped down on Port Arthur in 1904 a Japanese commission had agreed with the the Japanese Emperor that he recede from his demands in relation to the sovereignty of Korea. Cables from the Far East announced one afternoon that Japan had backed down and there would be no war. and those of the next morning told of the Japanese attack on Port Arthur.

Knowing Japan's record in foreign diplo-macy, it is not wise to credit her with abandoning any part of her ambitious plan for expansion until official pledges have been exchanged between the governments con-cerned. Japanese statesmen make the boast that their government has never repudiated any pledge that it had once made, unless the conditions under which it was made had themselves changed. But it will be observed that the Japanese government reserves to itself the right to determine whether conditions have been altered to a sufficient extent to justify repudiation of treaty.

Shortly after the Treaty of Versailles was signed President Wilson stated in public addresses that the Japanese commis sioners had given him the assurance that it was the intent of their government to return Shantung to China, but that it desired to do so of its own volition and would not consent to exchange any pledges in relation to it. That was two years ago; and it is again announced, unofficially, that Japan expects to voluntarily return to China its ravished province.

Japan's position in relation to Siberia is equally equivocal. During the last year the number of Japanese troops on Siberian soft has been trebled; a territory as great in extent as the whole of California is governed by Japanese officials, and it is known that the Japanese emigration to Siberia has passed the two-million mark. Taxes are collected and district and municipal government is conducted by the Japanese. This unofficial announcement of contemplated withdrawal hardly squares with that policy of expansion.

It is well to recall that "East is East and West is West," that the Ten Command-ments do not form a part of the Japanese decalogue, and that there is nothing in the Shinto religion about turning the other cheek. While it is not impossible that Japan contemplates a complete reversal of foreign policy, still, in view of her rapidly enlarging navy, it may be well for other countries to keep their powder dry until the Japanese government itself.

THE BROADER OUTLOOK.

Southern California has grown amazngly in wealth, population and productive ness. It has attained a high place in the front rank of American commonwe Its progress is due to the enterprise of its le, its strategic location, its vast natural resources and its favorable climatic onditions. Endowed by nature, the South land has forged ahead with such rapidity forward-looking, courageous and energetic ody of citizens.

Each individual community of Southern California has recorded its own triumphy and has waged its successful campaigns for progress and for betterment. Each has conted to the general success of the South land and each shares in the benefits that hold its present proud position through the efforts of any one community or group of communities, but rather through the com bined efforts of all of them.

The close relationship between Southern California cities and towns and their comnon weal are sometimes lost sight of in campaigns for local prestige. All Southern California has felt the invigorating effects f the industrial or manufacturing era that has swept us upward in a business way. New industries and greater pay rolls have built up Southern California tremend Rivalry between communities to secure certain industries has been keen and much of it is healthy and stimulating. munity because another has secured an industry that it sought for tune with the true spirit of Southern California progress.

When one Southern California community gets a new industry all the others have definite ground for rejoicing. It has been the history of the Southland, industrially, that one manufacturing plant follows another, that the more factories we have the nore will come. The success of one community as a manufacturing center has brought factories to the rest.

So, in the midst of the keen race for business and larger cities and towns, it is well to consider that Southern California is growing and progressing as a whole and that the success of any community helps the others. Los Angeles has virtually the same reason for rejoicing when Long Beach secures a new industry as if the plant were to be located in Los Angeles, and the principle is true all over Southern California.

Drawbacks to Farm Life. The State College of Agriculture reports that inquiry of 3000 larger farms in prosperous communities shows 70 per cent of the homes without running water. 77 per cent without furnaces and 85 per cent without bathrooms. These conveniences are commonplace in the homes of the workingman in the city. When the farmers of New York shall be able and willing to make these typical conveniences commonplaces of country homes it will be easier to hold the boy and the hired man -[Syracuse

RIPPLING RHYMES. YAP.

I never heard the name of Yap in all my days, till lately; I knew not it was on the map or that it mattered greatly. I'd heard of Swat, whose Ahkoond rose long since to heights of glory; but Yap has never, suppose, been seen in song or story. do not know what waters lave its shores of mud or coral, but now it's making nations rave, inspires another quarrel. I have encountered many yaps, who all around have flourished, and never wondered if these chaps in Yap were born and nourished. And now this island, cape or rock, peninsula or hollow is stirring up much warlike talk and there'll be more to follow. I'm always prompt to join a scrap when foemen need a whipping, but I would hate to fight for Yap with yaps around me yip-ping. I'll not be with the craven crew if call to arms is spoken; I'd bravely fight for Timbuctoo and slug for old Hoboken; the country's foe I'll roundly slap, my wrath on him I'll visit, but I would hate to scrap for Yap or any great what-is-it! Is it a thing like Puget Sound, a lake or Yap or any great what-is-it! Is it a thing like Puget Sound, a lake like good old Erie, is it a hollow in the ground, a desert bleak and dreary? Is it a crater or a gap, a haven for the farmer? I'll have to know much more of Yap before I don my armor. WALT MASON.

tooked chicken with a mixture of cooked chicken with a mixture of one cup of vinegar, one tablespoon of chopped parsley, one slice of onlon, a bit of bay leaf, half a blade of mace and a few pepper corns; let stand one hour and drain. Place in a saucepan half a cup of butter and when it is melted add two tablespoons of grated onlon, two chopped green peppers, three pimentos cut in strips and half a cup of flour. Stir and cook for five minutes. Add three cups of milk and season with salt, paprika and nutmeg; when well blended add the chicken. Bring to a boil and add two cups of browned mushrooms, two tablespoons of capers and the yolks of four eggs beaten with two cups cream: cook three minutes; do not boil. Just before serving add two tablespoons of tarragon vinegar and one-third cup of orange juice. Serve with points of toast or in pattie shells.

FRUIT BABAS.

One of the most popular pleces

One of the most popular pieces on the trays of French pastry served in the tea rooms on the avenue is the fruit babas. To make, dissolve half a cake of compressed yeast in half a 'cup' of lukewarm milk; add half a cup of four and beat until smooth: place in a warm place to rise. Beat to a cream one-half cup of butter with half a cup of sugar and add to the well-risen sponge with two cups of sifted flour, three well-beaten eggs, three-quarters cup of chopped seeded raisins, three-quarters cup of seedless raisins and the grated rind of one lemon. Mix on the trays of French pastry served well and fill well-buttered muffin tins half full. Place in a warm place until light and double in bulk and bake in a moderate oven. Remove from the oven and cover at once with a frosting made from one cup of powdered sugar, one and a half tablespoons of hot water and one and a half tablespoons of orange juice.

FOR CREAM PUFFS.

For delicious cream puffs place in a saucepan one cup of washed butter and two cups of boiling water, bring to a boil and add all at once two cups of sifted flour. Stir until it forms a ball that will not stick to the sides of the pan. Place the cooked paste in a bowl and beat in, one at a time, six eggs. With a teaspoon place the mixture in little balls on buttered pans, two inches apart. Bake twenty to thirty minutes in a moderate oven. When cool cut a small slit in the side and fill with whipped cream mixed with seedless raisins or chocolate filling. Dip tops in white frosting.

For the chocolate filling add to one and a half cups of scalded milk half a cup of four mixed to a smooth paste with half a cup of cold milk. Place in a double boiler and cook fifteen minutes, stirring constantly. Beat the yolks of four eggs with one cup of sugar and a quarter teaspoon of salt and stir into the hot mixture. Add two squares of melted chocolate and one tablespoon of butter; cook until well blended, remove from the fire, cool and flavor with vanilla or almond. FOR CREAM PUFFS.

FUNERAL RITES FOR

Funeral services for Daniel Moore were conducted yesterday at Moore were conducted yesterday at 2 p.m. in the chapel of W. A. Brown and interment was made in Ingle-wood Cemetery. Mr. Moore died Saturday at his home, 138 West Seventy-ninth street, aged 86 years. He came here fifteen years ago from Des Moines, where he was a building contractor, and where he settled forty-five years ago. He was born in Ohio, and was a lifelong member of the Methodist church. Activities at the Snyder head

Activities at the Snyder headquarters have noticeably slumped since the primaries. The countless paid workers who turned out great quantities of literature in an effort to elect Snyder at the primaries are noticeably and permanently absent. Batteries of typewriters no longer click. All is quiet.
Evidently a silent campaign is being conducted. New faces are noted. John Steele, who was precinct manager before the primaries,

KINDERGARTNERS SEEK RISE.

Kindergarten teachers have been joined by the teachers of other classifications in the Pasadena public schools in asking the School Board to make a $200 increase in the maximum salary for kindergarten teachers. They desire this in order to equalize the kindergartners under the new salary schedule in effect the past year. There is now a difference of $400 between the pay of kindergarten teachers and elementary teachers, and they desire this difference reduced to $200. The board today took the request under advisement, but it seems likely that the Trustees will act favorably upon the request. KINDERGARTNERS SEEK RISE

Manager watson as grimin lead to his job. Naturally, he has made enemies.

It has cost an awful lot of money to keep the city machine on a level with the phenomenal growth of the town. It will be remembered that Glendale hung up a world's record in its class when the 1920 census was taken. A great program of construction work and street improvement was necessary. There were problems of light and water. Many new schools were necessary. Bonds had to be voted and special assessments were numerous. Many toes were stepped on, and any man who had a grievance did not hesitate to blame it all on the City Manager and the machine.

Therefore, Manager Watson is confronted today by as husky a lot of enemies as a man could wish for. They are howling for his scalp and will not be content with anything else. Whether there are enough of them to produce results remains to be seen. The generally stated objection to the City Manager is that he is a small-town man and that Glendale is getting to be a big city. Manager Watson knows his town thoroughly and can describe every tree within its borders, but the cry is for an up-to-date business executive. Those who have a personal grudge against the Manager are swelling the chorus.

Before the fight is over there are likely to be fifteen or twenty different candidates for the Council, and at least a dozen organizations have been formed in support of certain.

ent candidates for the Council, and at least a dozen organizations have been formed in support of certain men and issues. Meetings are held nightly—some of them in private homes. The five members of the present Board of Trustees are all candidates for the Council. The present chairman, Dwight L. Stephenson, who is a Los Angeles attorney, seems to have the indorsement of both the liberals and the iron-sides, and seems reasonably certain of election. But the campaign is still young, and the situation as to the other members cannot be defined. The woman member. Mrs. Bartlett, also has many supporters in both camps.

in both camps.

The Men's Brotherhood, a church

The Men's Brotherhood, a church federation of great strength, is apt to take an active part in the election and seek to secure the pledges of candidates to its program for Sunday observance. An organization of liberals has been formed to counteract this if possible.

The candidates for the Council will be asked to declare themselves for or against a blue law, as well as for or against the present City Manager. It is quite possible that some bitterness will result, although it is promised that no artillery will be drawn or poison gas used.

As the north portal to Greater Los Angeles, the city of Glendale has a reputation to maintain. She is going to be clean and good even at the penalty of being tiresome.

The unusual charge arose, say the officers, over the determination of the mother to have her daughter in spite of a court decision that the custody of the child be awarded to her husband's sister, Margaret Stevenson, of 1427 South Mariposa street. The warrant was issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Becker on complaint of the aunt. The mother and street. The warrant was issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Becker on complaint of the aunt. The mother and W. W. Copeland, her husband, are separated, say the officers.

On May 9 Glenn Copeland disappeared from the aunt's home and later a letter is said to have been received here, postmarked at San Francisco, and purporting to come from Mrs. Copeland. In the message the writer says she will care for her daughter, but will not relinquish her to the aunt or husband, say the officers. An effort is being made by the constables to locate the mother and child, who are believed to be in or near the northern city.

The War on Film That dingy film on teeth

Dental science nowadays is conducting a war on film. It means a new dental era. The object is whiter teeth, cleaner teeth and safer.

Millions of people have already benefited. And leading dentists everywhere are urging this new way on others,

This is to offer a pleasant test. To bring you the results for awhile. Then to let you decide if you want them every day.

Film mars your looks

Film is that viscous coat you feel, ever-present, ever-forming. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.

This film absorbs stains, so it clouds the teeth's beauty. It often forms the basis of thin, dingy coats. And coated teeth don't glisten.

So beauty alone demands its daily removal. Those who leave it do not realize how attractive teeth can be.

The great tooth wrecker

But film does more. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. And they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea,

Thus film causes most tooth troubles. Despite the tooth brush, those troubles have been constantly increasing, until very few escape. The ordinary dentifrice does not effectively combat film. so much has been left intact
